"Be Counted For Canada" This Week - Or Next

Canada is a great country and we should be proud to be counted for Canada. This week or next, we should all take the time to fill out our census forms. This is a very important duty and it is one that we should all take seriously. The census is used to determine the population of the country and it is used to determine the distribution of resources. It is also used to determine the needs of the country and to plan for the future.

What Is Meant By Incorporating A Firm?

Incorporating a firm is a legal process that allows a business to become a separate legal entity. This means that the business is no longer owned by the individual owner but is instead owned by a corporation. This can provide many benefits, including limited liability and the ability to raise capital more easily. It is a decision that should be made carefully with the help of a lawyer.

Horner Outlines His Thoughts On Red Deer River Diversion

By Jack H. Horner, M.P.A.
The Red Deer River diversion project is a long-range plan for the province of Alberta. It is a project that will cost $100 million and will take 10 years to complete. The project is being planned by the Alberta Government and the Canadian Government. The project will divert the Red Deer River into the Bow River, which will then flow into the Athabasca River. This will allow the Red Deer River to be used for irrigation and other purposes. The project will also create a large reservoir which will be used for hydroelectric power. The project is a major step in the development of the Red Deer River basin.

- WEED SPRAYS -
If you examine your grain fields and discover a few weeds per square foot, would it bother you? No? Well look at it this way - Multiply those few weeds times 43,560 (total square foot in an acre) and the figure may prove to be alarming! Yes, weeds in your crop can reduce grain yields as much as six bushels per acre. Just think of the valuable plant food and moisture they steal from your crop. Use CO-OP HERBICIDES to combat weed growth. But remember weeds are easiest to kill when they are small - so spray early. For guaranteed results use the right herbicide at the right time. Drop in and let us help you control weeds now.

25,000 Farmers Taking Part In Hail Studies Project

A massive project to study hail damage to crops is under way in Alberta. Twenty-five thousand farmers are taking part in the project, which is being conducted by the Hail Survey Committee. The project involves the collection of data on hail damage to crops, and the results will be used to develop a hail insurance program.

The project is being conducted in three stages. In the first stage, farmers are asked to report on the amount of hail damage to their crops. In the second stage, the Hail Survey Committee will conduct a survey of the damage. In the third stage, the results of the survey will be used to develop a hail insurance program.

The project is being conducted in cooperation with the Hail Survey Committee, which is a joint venture of the Hail Survey Committee and the Hail Survey Committee. Fertilizer For Cultivated Grass

For the best results in fertilizing your lawn, it is important to use the right type of fertilizer. A good quality fertilizer will provide your grass with the nutrients it needs to grow thick and healthy. It is also important to apply the fertilizer at the right time of year. In general, the best time to fertilize is in the late spring or early summer. This will give your grass the best chance to absorb the nutrients before the heat of the summer. It is also important to water your lawn thoroughly after fertilizing to help the nutrients sink into the soil.

Investment Principles For The Farm

When planning to invest in a farm, there are several key principles to consider. First, it is important to have a clear understanding of the local market and the potential for growth. This involves researching the area and its history, as well as consulting with local experts.

Second, it is crucial to have a solid financial plan in place. This includes determining the budget for the investment and identifying the sources of funding. It is also important to consider the long-term costs of owning and operating the farm, as well as the potential for future income.

Yikes! A suboptimal-dietary combination can bring sugar, but let select one right into your kitchen - your choice may be found on frozen food, at a corner convenience store, or kept at certain temperatures - but are spreadable only; vegetables are crisp and fresh, milk, cream, cheese, and meats are kept just right. The former half of the combination seems hard to miss-and, however,

You can buy in bulk at bargain prices, most, and most, most vegetables and fruit, ice cream and frozen foods. You'll be stored in perfect condition and it's natural. A suboptimal-dietary combination is not a problem in our. Ask your favorite appliance retailer to show you just how wonderful suboptimal-dietary can be.

The Board of Stettler Municipal Hospital is concerned about children playing on the Municipal Hospital grounds.

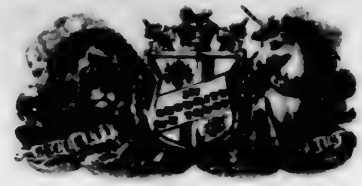

Not only does this injure the grounds and lawn AND IS IN FACT A TRESPASS, but the Board is concerned also lest any of the children might suffer injury while playing there.

The Hospital Board does not accept any responsibility if such an injury should take place and hereby gives notice to that effect.

The Hospital Board does not know who the parents of the children who have been playing on the grounds are and requests the co-operation and assistance of parents in preventing children playing, and thereby trespassing, on the Municipal Hospital grounds.

The council's report, which is based on data from the Vancouver Police Department, shows that there were 10 deaths and 100 injuries from traffic accidents in the Greater Vancouver area in 1981, compared with eight deaths and 80 injuries in 1980.

The council says that the increase in deaths is due to a number of factors, including an increase in the number of vehicles on the road, an increase in the number of miles driven, and an increase in the number of accidents involving passenger cars, trucks and vans.

Waterfowl Breeding Season Best In Last Ten Years

Best duck breeding season in the past decade, according to a report by the British Columbia Wildlife Federation, was the year 1981. The report says that the number of ducks bred in the province was the highest in ten years, and that the number of ducks that survived to adulthood was also high.

The report also says that the number of ducks that were killed by hunters was the lowest in ten years, and that the number of ducks that were killed by cars was also low.

The report says that the success of the breeding season is due to a number of factors, including a mild winter, a long growing season, and a low number of predators.

Day 10 - Stettler Independent, Wednesday, September 23, 1968

Aphid Control

Phytophagous insects, which feed on plants, are a major pest of agricultural crops. Aphids are the most common of these insects. They are small, pear-shaped insects with long, thin bodies and long, thin antennae. They are found on many types of plants, including alfalfa, clover, and various types of grasses. Aphids can cause damage to plants by sucking out the sap, which can lead to stunted growth and yellowing of leaves. They can also transmit plant viruses.

Control Methods

There are several methods for controlling aphids. One method is to use insecticides. Another method is to use natural predators, such as ladybugs and lacewings. A third method is to use physical barriers, such as netting, to prevent aphids from reaching the plants.

Prevention

There are several ways to prevent aphids from infesting plants. One way is to plant resistant varieties. Another way is to use companion planting. A third way is to use regular inspections to detect aphids early.

Ann Landers..

Answer your problem.

Dear Ann Landers:

I am a 35-year-old woman who has been married for 10 years. My husband and I have two children, a son and a daughter. We are both employed and have a good income. However, my husband has been having a hard time adjusting to the new job. He is very nervous and has been having a lot of trouble sleeping. I am very concerned about him and would like to know what I can do to help him.

Ann Landers:

It is very common for a man to have trouble adjusting to a new job. He may be feeling nervous and unsure of himself. It is important for you to be patient with him and to encourage him. You can help him by talking to him about his feelings and by encouraging him to talk to his boss. You can also help him by making sure he has enough time to get ready for work each day. It is also important for you to make sure he has enough time to relax and to spend time with his family. If you can help him in these ways, he will be able to adjust to his new job more easily.

No Increase in Volkswagen 1967 Prices

Volkswagen of Canada has announced that it will not increase the prices of its 1967 models. This decision is based on the company's commitment to providing value for its customers and its belief that the current market conditions do not warrant a price increase.

The 1967 Volkswagen models, including the Beetle, Beetle Van, and Beetle Cabriolet, are available at the same prices as the 1966 models. This is a significant benefit for customers, as it allows them to purchase a newer vehicle without paying a premium.

The Great Golf Car Debate

As the debate over the future of the golf car continues, it is clear that the industry is facing a significant challenge. The debate is centered around the question of whether the golf car should be considered a motor vehicle or a piece of recreational equipment. This distinction is crucial because it determines the regulatory framework that will govern the design, production, and use of these vehicles.

Proponents of the golf car argue that it is a unique mode of transportation, designed specifically for use on golf courses. They claim that it is not a motor vehicle in the traditional sense, as it is not designed for use on public roads. Therefore, they argue, it should be exempt from the strict regulations that apply to motor vehicles.

On the other hand, opponents of the golf car argue that it is a motor vehicle, regardless of its intended use. They point out that the golf car is powered by an internal combustion engine and is capable of traveling at speeds that are comparable to those of a car. They argue that if the golf car is allowed to operate without the same regulations as a car, it will pose a significant safety hazard to the public.

The debate is further complicated by the fact that the golf car industry is a relatively small one, with a limited number of manufacturers. This makes it difficult for the industry to mount a strong defense against the arguments of its opponents. Additionally, the industry is facing increasing pressure from the public to address safety concerns.

In light of these challenges, it is clear that the golf car industry must take a proactive approach to addressing the debate. It must engage in a dialogue with regulatory bodies and the public to ensure that its interests are protected while also addressing safety concerns. Only through this process can the future of the golf car be secured.

The Decline of The Small Town

Small towns across the country are experiencing a decline in population and economic activity. This is due to a variety of factors, including the loss of manufacturing jobs, the rise of the service economy, and the migration of young people to larger cities. The decline of small towns has led to a loss of community identity and a decline in the quality of life for residents. However, there are some small towns that have managed to survive and even thrive. These towns have a strong sense of community, a diverse economy, and a commitment to preserving their unique character. The decline of small towns is a complex issue that requires a multifaceted approach to address. It is important to support small towns and to ensure that they have the resources and opportunities to succeed in the future.

New Year's Eve Drinking Curbed

EDMONTON — An Alberta Liquor Control Board official on an unannounced Monday here will be on the lookout for drinking too early in the year.

Even though the board says bars, taverns and restaurants are not supposed to serve liquor until 12:30 a.m., the board says it will be looking for people who are drinking too early in the year.

The board is not expecting a big increase in drinking on New Year's Eve, but it is expecting a big increase in drinking on New Year's Day.

Canadian Chamber Asks Water Resources Inventory

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce and Industry has asked the federal government to commission a study of the water resources of Canada. The study would be the first of its kind and would provide a comprehensive inventory of the water resources of the country. The study would also provide information on the distribution of water resources and on the potential for water development. The study would be conducted by a committee of experts and would be completed by the end of 1970. The results of the study would be used to guide the development of water resources in Canada.

Heart Haven Notes

Up and over the bridge at the heart of the city, the Heart Haven Notes are a reminder of the heart's true nature. The heart is the center of our being, the source of our life. It is the heart that pumps the blood, the life-giving fluid, through our veins. It is the heart that beats with love, with compassion, with understanding. It is the heart that connects us to each other, to the world around us. It is the heart that gives us the strength to face our challenges, the courage to pursue our dreams. It is the heart that makes us who we are, the heart that is the essence of our humanity. Let us cherish our hearts, let us love them, let us protect them. For they are the heart of our life, the heart of our world.

On Thursday, January 11th, Mrs. Arthur Apperley of Stettler, in the city, will celebrate her 35th year in business, and about 10 of those "happy years" she has spent in Stettler.

The celebration is a remarkable record that is probably not equaled by any other business in the city.

Mrs. Apperley was born and raised in Stettler. After and following graduation from high school, she spent a year at Winnipeg, Man.

She returned to Stettler and, in 1921, opened a clothing store in the downtown area. It was then that she started her business in Stettler.

Mrs. Apperley's father was a well-known "H. N. N. N."
retailer after 40 years in business. Mrs. Apperley's husband, Mr. Arthur Apperley, is a successful business man in Winnipeg, Man. He is also a member of the Stettler Board of Trade.

After several years in business, Mrs. Apperley moved the business to its present location on Stettler Street. It was then that she started her business in Stettler.

Mrs. Apperley's business has grown steadily since she started it. She has a large stock of clothing and accessories and is always ready to serve her customers.

Our freight trains don't look the same anymore.

Because your freight doesn't

After all, when we started in the rail freight business, boxcars carried everything. And today, they're still the backbone of our vast freight-carrying fleet.

But your freight keeps changing. It comes in ever newer shapes, sizes and materials. And it needs special handling. That's why we've developed six types of freight carrying equipment, backed up by the latest in handling techniques and communications.

So maybe our freight trains different today. But then, so are your needs.

A WEEKLY LOOK AT
EXP. 67

"The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was a warm, humid breeze. It felt like a giant hand reaching out to greet me. The humidity was not sticky or oppressive, but comforting. It was a relief from the dry, cold air of the north.
 I had heard that the humidity was terrible, but in this part of the state, it was perfect. It was just what I needed to feel at home.
 The humidity was a reminder that I was finally where I belonged.
 It was a warm embrace from the earth itself. I had found my place.
 The humidity was a sign that I was finally home."

EDUCATION WEEK THERE:
"Education In The 1980s Year"

[illegible]

10

The Town of Stettler is honoured to be chosen as the site of the inauguration, banquet and ceremonies heralding the start of 1987 Education Week in central Alberta. The importance of formal education for the youth of today, of encouraging education for graduates of our schools and for all citizens cannot be too strongly emphasized.

Education Week provides an opportunity to take stock of the progress of our schools and to set the agenda for the future.

Rapidly changing conditions brought about by amazing advances in technology have created new demands for trained personnel. For young people to be able to fill an active and positive role in society, they must have the necessary "technical" skills that are so important.

But aside from the technical training that is essential, we must also value the role of education in stabilizing influence of a socially responsible people. The most technically advanced civilization will crumble.

These two fields—technology and morality—must be the prime concern of our schools today. The two

With these few brief observations concerning education, it is a great pleasure to welcome our members and guests to the annual meeting of the Association. Our meeting is an official welcome on the occasion of the opening of Education Week in Central Alberta in this Centennial Year 1967.

What Education Means To Me

By James F. P. ... Education is the process of acquiring knowledge, skills, and values. It is the foundation upon which we build our lives. Education is what makes us human. It is what makes us capable of understanding the world around us and of improving it. Education is what makes us proud of who we are and of what we can achieve.

School Bus Driver Is Education's Unsung Hero

By R. E. Smith, President, Alberta School Trustees Association
The school bus driver is an unsung hero. He is the person who makes it possible for children to get to school safely and on time. He is the person who is responsible for the safety of the children while they are on the bus. He is the person who is often the only adult the children see during the day.

I can give you fertilizers that will return about $4 for every $1 you spend.

Shell fertilizers are ground into compact pellets. They take up little storage space. They're clean or cake - so they flow freely from spreaders. Shell fertilizers are extra water soluble. Break down fast to start working immediately - even in soil where the moisture level is below normal.

Big profits from fertilizers - another way Shell's Complete Farm Service helps make your farm more efficient and more profitable.

Fertilizers are just a few of the many good Shell products in my stock. Come in and see what you need.

Avoid Risks By Treating Your Seed

Seed treatment is a crucial step in ensuring a successful crop. It helps to protect the seed from diseases and insects, which can significantly reduce yield. There are several methods of seed treatment, including chemical treatments and biological treatments. Chemical treatments are the most common and effective, but they can be expensive. Biological treatments are a more eco-friendly option, but they may not be as effective. It is important to choose the right treatment for your seed and to apply it correctly. Seed treatment is a small investment that can lead to a much larger return.

High School Grad Education Opportunities

High school graduates have many opportunities for further education. They can attend university, college, or vocational school. Each option has its own advantages and disadvantages. University offers a broad-based education and the opportunity to earn a degree. College offers a more focused education and is often less expensive. Vocational school offers training for a specific trade or profession. It is important to consider your interests, abilities, and financial situation when choosing an education path. There are many resources available to help you make a decision, including career counselors and financial aid advisors.

Dear Ann, I have a problem. I am a single mother of two children, a 12-year-old son and a 10-year-old daughter. I am having trouble finding a job that pays enough to support them. I have tried several jobs but they all seem to be dead ends. I am feeling very discouraged and I don't know what to do. Can you help me?

Around The Greens

By George Finkbein

The golf course is a place where the sun is always shining and the wind is always blowing. It is a place where the grass is always green and the water is always blue. It is a place where the birds are always singing and the flowers are always blooming. It is a place where the people are always happy and the children are always playing.

KEEP ALBERTA MOVING AHEAD WITH SOCIAL CREDIT!

Alberta is on the move! Here is a zest and enthusiasm that's found nowhere else in Canada. Alberta's past record is impressive, but the years ahead will prove to be even greater. There's optimism and excitement in the air — with good reason! Every year some dynamic steps forward — the implementation of new and progressive plans of action to benefit every Albertan. Consider progress in Alberta! The Alberta Health Plan with its comprehensive benefits; the continuing orderly development of the province's vast natural resources and legislation that gives a 75 percent rebate on estate taxes but still keeps the province's sales tax low. Whether you're looking at the Government's education program that involves expenditure of over $275 million or the fact that Alberta has Canada's first Ombudsman to safeguard human rights — the picture is clear — Alberta is the province for the best years of your life!
